Palletization with Anti-Skid & Air Release Systems

Anti-Skid: Large laminate pet food bags can be difficult to palletize. We offer multiple grades of Anti-Skid (Hi-COF) Coatings and Low-Slip Materials that allow large pet food bags to be palletized.

Air Release Systems: Trapped air inside a bag can cause a pallet to become unstable after stacking. This can cause the pallet to tip over in transit resulting in lost product and revenue.

BSY Provides Several Solutions for Air Release Systems:

Micro-Perforations

A series of tiny holes strategically placed on the bag allows trapped air to escape the bag during the palletization process.

Degassing Valves

We have several types of valves from Hi-Flow Inner Valves to Outer Label/Wipe-On Valves. we also offers a Two-Way Valve that allows for trapped air to escape the bag but also allows for the air to return the bag. The valve has a filter paper covering the valve to provide protection against dust and infestation.

Available Features

Rounded Corners

A series of tiny holes strategically placed on the bag allows trapped air to escape the bag during the palletization process.

Pinch Bottom Fold & Glue

As most large laminate pet food bags are marked with the bottom of the bag sitting out, this bag has the bottom of the bag folded and glued maximizing the amount of space the consumer sees while bags are sitting on the shelf.

Pinch Bottom Bags w/K-Seals and Tack Seals

These bags are most common in the large laminate pet food bags. The addition of the K-Seal provides additional strength at the bottom of the bag and the Tack Seals provide a nice looking finished product.

Press-To-Close Zippers

Provides for a nice looking finished product and helps the sharp corners of other bags from cutting into adjacent bags.

Sliders

BSY offers two Slider options: exposed and hooded. The exposed Slider is visible to the consumer

Side handle
